William Craft is born in GA. The birthdates of both William and Ellen are unknown as there were no birth records kept for slaves. Jan 1, 1826. Ellen Smith is born in Clinton, GA. Ellen and William have a slave wedding. Slaves were not allowed to legally marry so a secret marriage was performed in front of friends. William was allowed to move into the Collins' estate, which made the Collins' happy because they now owned William, too. Dec 21, 1848. William dodges their watchful eyes and Bostonians warn the slave catchers from the city before they are hurt. On November 7, the Reverend Theodore Parker performs a wedding ceremony for the Craft's. "Running a Thousand Miles for Freedom" is published. A novel written by the Craft's. Jan 1, 1861. Ellen and William Craft escaped slavery in the south by disguising the fair-skinned Ellen as a wealthy plantation owner and her husband as her valet. After 200 miles aboard a train owned by their master and a nail-biting boat ride, Ellen and William Craft made their way to Philadelphia to become free. Wikimedia Commons Married slaves Ellen and William Craft escaped rewrote their fate embarking on an ingenious escape plan to the North. Perhaps the most daring and ingenious escape from slavery was the brainchild of enslaved married couple, Ellen and William Craft, whose story is one of danger, intrigue, and cross-dressing.

In 1848 William and Ellen Craft made one of the most daring and remarkable escapes in the history of slavery in America. With fair-skinned Ellen in the guise of a white male planter and William posing as her servant, the Crafts traveled by rail and ship--in plain sight and relative luxury--from bondage in Macon, Georgia, to freedom first in Philadelphia, then Boston, and ultimately England. This edition of their thrilling story is newly typeset from the original 1860 text.Â Peruse any respectable history of African American life and cultureâ€”from a university classroom standard like From Slavery to Freedom (1997) to a bookstore staple like the three-volume Afri-.

Husband and wife William and Ellen Craft's break from slavery in 1848 was perhaps the most extraordinary in American history. Numerous newspaper reports in the United States and abroad told of how the two -- fair-skinned Ellen disguised as a white slave master and William posing as her servant -- negotiated heart-pounding brushes with discovery while fleeing Macon, Georgia, for Philadelphia and eventually Boston. No account, though, conveyed the ingenuity, daring, good fortune, and love that characterized their flight for freedom better than the couple's own version, published in 186
