Create New Account. See more of Film Criticism Journal on Facebook. Log In. Forgot account? Film criticism is the analysis and evaluation of films and the film medium. The concept is often used interchangeably with that of film reviews. A film review implies a recommendation aimed at consumers, however not all film criticism takes the form of reviews. In general, film criticism can be divided into two categories: journalistic criticism which appears regularly in newspapers, magazines and other popular mass-media outlets; and academic criticism by film scholars who are informed by film theory Criticism is an ancient and revered art form. Pretty much since stories were first written, other people were writing down their opinions about those stories. This criticism has always helped other people form opinions of the work for themselves and make informed decisions of whether itâ€™s worth their time. Of course, storytelling has changed a lot since Aristotle wrote his Poetics, and criticism has changed to keep up.
